I'm a sophomore studying Computer science at IT Step Academy in Kiev.

I love to solve problems. Whether it's finding the most elegant way to write a line of code or figuring out which chord fits best into a progression, I love the challenge of finding a way and discovering solutions. Maybe that's why I love writing, reading and the satisfaction that comes from finding just the right word; or that's why I studied Geophysics at the university to figure out how our Earth works and not so long, I started to study psychology and rationality in my spare time to figure out how people think. As long as there's a problem to solve or a challenge to puzzle over, it's bound to be something I love!
