Communicative, determined and creative. Determination is key in my eyes, not giving up before achieving whatever i set my mind on. Communicating with others is one of my favourite things to do, always eager to learn from others and help others out wherever possible. My previous works helped me further develop creative thought processes and improve my communication skills and also my researching, designing, implementing, and managing software skills to be able to apply this expertise in the real working world. Having found my passion in this field, I wish to pursue this line of work in my future career.
